Guide To Services

Project Management

The ever increasing complexity and sophistication in construction with the advent of intelligent buildings; measures to combat climate change and increasing number of specialists contributing to the process makes successful project delivery more challenging than ever.

Our professionally qualified project managers, collaborative and open approach and a delivery process honed over many years of successful project delivery will help you achieve your goals.

- Complete support services from inception to completion, assisting in developing briefs and interpreting into scope of works
- Transparent project management and programme management services, using data and intelligence to inform project requirements
- Producing Feasibility Reports with high level programmes and coordinating high level costs to inform clients of the feasible options for a project
- Our experienced staff offer significant historic local intelligence on sites
- Programme management, driving greater efficiencies when bundling together a series of projects including the coordination role for Education, SEND and Code Red sites

Multi-Disciplinary Design Service

Our multi-disciplinary design resource adds value through the development of robust client briefs; early concepts to test feasibility and design reviews. We can also offer a full Architectural and design service when required through our in-house expertise or with our carefully selected supply chain design partners. We can also offer a full design service when required through our carefully selected supply chain design partners.

Clerk of Works

In the wake of high profile building failures and with the drive to improve standards, independent verification of quality is more important than ever. Acivico offers a rigorous site inspection service through its experienced team of Clerks of Works covering both building fabric and engineering services and adopting technology compatible with modern design collaboration tools such as BIM.

- Our experienced staff offer significant historic local intelligence on sites
- Complete support services from inception to completion, assisting in developing briefs and interpreting into scope of works
- Ensuring your projects are delivered to the quality required, within the contractor's budget and time constraints

Cost Management

We recognise that our clients need to maximise the value from every pound spent on their properties and projects. We draw upon benchmarks and market intelligence to set realistic budgets; keep our finger on the pulse to control costs throughout and work closely with designers to drive value and eliminate unnecessary expenditure.

Procurement

Devising the right procurement strategy is vital to the success of any project. As manager of the award winning Constructing West Midlands construction framework, Acivico is able to offer this solution to clients where appropriate and to help you devise the right procurement strategy for your project.
